GOLF HOLIDAYS 2007-2008

CHATEAU WHISTLER GOLF CLUB WHISTLER, BRITISH COLUMBIA

When Whistler Resort was awarded the Number 1 Golf destination in Canada by Golf Digest in 2000, Chateau Whistler played a very prominent role in this accolade, and in 2001 readers of Score magazine voted it the Best Resort Course in Canada. This Robert Trent Jones Jr. design continues to impress, carved from the side of Blackcomb Mountain and featuring an elevation change of over 400 feet. With unparalleled views of Whistler valley, the course features jagged rock faces, wildlife, ravines and waterfalls at every turn.

Opened in 1993, the course is 6635 yards, par 72, with a very challenging slope of 145. By allowing nature to dictate the path without constraints of commercial influence, the course traverses creeks, ponds, stands of ancient Douglas fir and granite rock faces, which testify to the fact that this magnificent course follows closely the natural state of the rugged terrain. Although Chateau Whistler is arguably the toughest test of the game in the Whistler region, golfers have the opportunity to choose tees appropriate to their ability. This magnificent golf course is generous to the eye and provides enough fun and challenge for everyone. Remember to bring your camera as well as your clubs to enjoy this course to its fullest!

The 8th hole is a magnificent par 3, with a fine view to assuage your mind as you contemplate the water to the left of the green. Ranging from 212 yards from the tiger tees to 158 yards from the gentleman's forward tees, and 123 yards for the ladies, the elevated tee presents a view of the hole designed to take you away from the water and to the right of the green. Anything right will find a granite wall where a ricochet can go anywhere, to a bunker long and left should you clear the water on the wrong line.

Another very nice feature is complimentary golf for children under 18 (when playing with a paying adult), and the area does offer a wealth of activities for the family should they be part of your Whistler Golf Holiday. All visitors could benefit from the teaching facilities now on offer at Chateau Whistler. David Leadbetter Enterprises, known for having the world's premier golf academies, has officially opened Canada's only Leadbetter Academy at the Club. It features the very best in instructional teaching methods and products, including a double ended 350 yard Practice & Learning Centre, the latest computer and swing analysis technology, a practice fairway, target greens and an extensive short game area.
