HOTELS 2007 - 2008

THE GRANVILLE ISLAND HOTEL VANCOUVER, BRITISH COLUMBIA

One of our favourite small hotels anywhere, the Granville Island Hotel is a 3* downtown hotel in one of the very best locations in Vancouver. Situated on a small peninsula jutting into False Creek, the hotel provides breathtaking views of the city across the water and to the Mountains beyond. The Hotel is modern and the rooms are very comfortable, many laid out as suites with balconies and penthouses with Jacuzzi tubs.

Asides from it's wonderful location, the hotel has a terrific "buzz" around its premises. At the rear of the hotel is a large dockside patio, overlooking the water and the high rise towers of Vancouver's City centre no more than a mile away. Order your Granville Island Beer (brewed on the island or even on the hotel premises) and enjoy the sights of yachts in the marina beside you, or you might even be lucky enough to see a Dragon Boat with crew, out for their evening practice.

The hotel has a fine restaurant with a 40ft aquarium to admire but the food is very good indeed and is of a better than average standard. There is a fine old fashioned bar, with leather seats and sofas in which to relax after your meal, and on a warm summer evening, a stroll around the dockside wharf is definitely in order.

This is a classic small hotel, with surprising amenities such as a large Jacuzzi on the upper floor of the hotel, and although by no means a 5* hotel it is very comfortable indeed.

Outside of the hotel itself, Vancouver's historic Granville Island is the perfect place to enjoy this wonderful city whilst still being within convenient striking distance of excellent golf courses. Nestled in the middle of Vancouver's best known urban waterways, Granville Island is a short hop from beaches, downtown shopping, restaurants and the business district. The waterside setting with city and mountain views is idyllic, yet this island hums with activity. Stroll the celebrated Public Market, a feast for both the eye and the palate. Take in a play, or a street performer's serenade. Watch artists and craftspeople at work, or boats pass by from a waterfront bistro. Walk, jog, rollerblade or bike along the seawall in the ocean breeze. From Granville Island you can sail around the harbour or ski the coastal mountains. There's virtually no end to what you can do on the island.
